Forum

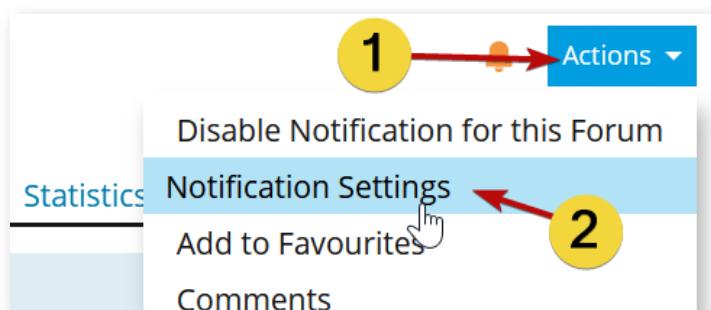

Forum notifications by default for new posts only

Notifications in forums have been adjusted so that (if notifications are enabled) you will only be notified about new posts by default and no longer about modified or deleted posts. If you still want to receive these messages, you must adjust the notification settings after enabling notifications for the entire forum:

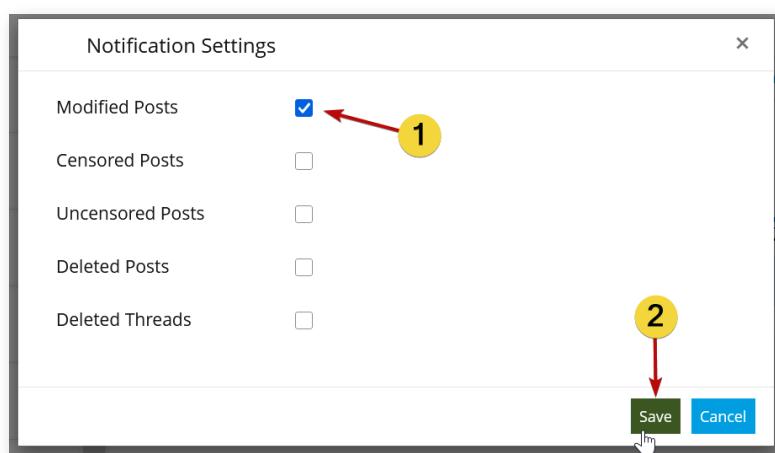

First, activate forum notifications via “Actions” ① > “Enable Notifications for this Forum” ②.

Then open the notification settings via “Actions” ① > “Notification Settings” ②.

Select which additional messages you would like to receive ① and save your selection ②.

Focus on one post

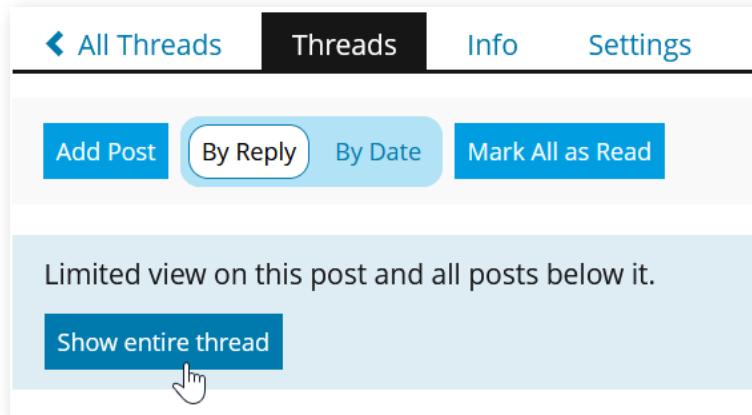

You can now display only a selected post and its sub-posts in the forum. In extensive forums, this allows you to focus on a single sub-post. The other posts can be displayed again at any time.

To make this option available, you must first change the sorting within a topic to “By Reply” ①. A target icon will then appear next to the date of the forum post. Click on it ② so that only this post and its sub-posts are displayed. This also applies to the navigation tree in the context menu.

The screenshot shows a forum post in a topic titled "Diskussion zu wichtigem Thema". The post was made 7m ago by "mkloes7m (Moderation)" on 5. Aug 2025, 15:48. It was edited on 7. Aug 2025, 09:26 by "LEA Support FB05". The post content is: "Liefern Sie 2 Argumente für einen der Unterpunkte." At the top of the post, there is a toolbar with buttons for "Add Post", "By Reply" (which is highlighted with a blue background and white text), "By Date", and "Mark All as Read". A yellow circle with the number "1" is placed over the "By Reply" button. A yellow circle with the number "2" is placed over a target icon (a circle with a crosshair) next to the post date. Red arrows point from the numbers 1 and 2 to their respective targets.

Clicking on the “Show entire thread” button restores the original view.

Exercise

Assignments restructured

In order to make the view of the assignments (student view) clearer, a new classification into ongoing, upcoming, and past assignments has been introduced, and the brief overview has been reduced to the most important options. By default, only the current exercise units are displayed. To view upcoming, past, or all exercise units, this must be selected in the filter menu:

Important: The brief overview only displays the status 'passed' and grade as feedback. To view feedback as text or file, click on the title of the exercise unit to access the detailed view.
